

I do not think that broadcasters should be able to limit my recording of information over digital television. The airwaves belong to the public, and these guys are getting it essentially for nothing. I am still restricted by law from giving away or selling this copywrited material.